The determination of the tax attributes of the Company’s distributions is made annually as of the end of the Company’s fiscal year based upon the Company’s taxable income for the full year and distributions paid for the full year. Therefore, a determination made on an interim basis may not be representative of the actual tax attributes of the Company’s distributions for a full year. The actual tax characteristics of distributions to stockholders are reported to stockholders annually on a Form 1099-DIV. The payment of future distributions on the Company’s common shares is subject to the sole discretion of the Company’s board of directors and applicable legal restrictions, and therefore, there can be no assurance as to the amount, timing or nature of any future distributions.
